Kings of the Week

Kisor Walters

Kisor Paul Walters was born on October 21, 2004. He is a 1st grader at Harding Academy Cordova and is a member of Highland's 1st grade class. Kisor's family includes his parents, Nathan and Jennifer, and his little brother, Keller.

Kisor shared with us a few of his favorites. His favorite food is fried shrimp. His favorite books are the "Magic Tree House" series and his favorite teams are the Arkansas Razorbacks and the Harding Lions. Kisor is a busy guy. He played basketball this winter for Harding Academy. He is currently playing soccer for Arlington and playing coach pitch (baseball) for Harding Academy for the first time ever. Kisor shared with us one of his biggest accomplishments, which was learning to water ski this past summer at his grandparent's lake house. Way to go, Kisor! In his down time, Kisor enjoys drawing and riding bikes and scooters with his neighborhood friends.

We asked Kisor what the one thing he would change about our world would be, and he said, "Everyone would try to keep the earth clean." His favorite thing about Highland is going to Bible class. Kisor would like to be a fireman when he grows up. He shared with us the heroes in his life saying, "My mom and dad."

We love Kisor and are happy to get to know him better!

William Bostic

William Daniel Bostic was born on November 18, 2003. He is a 2nd grader at Farmington Elementary and is a member of Highland's 2nd grade class. Will's family includes his parents, Josh and Jean, and his younger sister, Lauren.

Will shared with us a few of his favorites. His favorite food is fried shrimp. His favorite book is "Me and My Little Brain" by John D. Fitzgerald, and his favorite teams are North Carolina and Ole Miss. Will enjoys sports and played basketball last season through Crosscheck through Grace Evan. He currently plays soccer on the U8 advanced team for the Midsouth Futbol Club. Will also enjoys reading, playing on the computer, and riding his electric scooter. One of Will's biggest accomplishments took place during basketball season. He got fouled just as the buzzer went off signaling the end of the game. He went to the line, with his team down 1 point, and hit both free throws to win the game!

We asked Will what the one thing he would change about our world would be, and he said, "There would be fewer people getting deployed and having to leave their families." His favorite thing about Highland is the summer lock-in. Will wants to be a DJ for KLOVE, a computer engineer or a radiologist when he grows up. He shared with us the heroes in the life saying, "My mom and dad and Michael McAdoo from UNC."

We love Will and are happy to get to know him better!

Cause for Revelry

Zoo Fun

Abigail Howell, Karagan Prine, Audrey Howell, and Carly Slate pose by the Panda exhibit at the Memphis Zoo. They had a great time eating Icees, riding camels, and playing in the fountain.

Mackenzie and Peyton rode a camel at the zoo with their aunt Chelle. How fun!

Little Farmers

Taryn Mullinix and Jonathon Ruch display the seeds they planted in their Wednesday night class. They stirred water into the dirt, placed it into an egg shaped container, and planted their seeds.

Easter Egg Hunt

We have an amazing church family! Thank you so much for supporting our Easter Egg Hunt. We were amazed at the number of eggs that were brought in. Our little hunters had a great time and everyone left with plenty of candy!

We were blessed to have several of our Day School families come as well as neighborhood families and FIT families. Many of our members helped to sponsor the FIT families. They were their host for the day while they were here. Stephanie Linkous and Amy Childers helped to introduce them to our members and provided baskets for them to use during the egg hunt.

Gary and Marie Blume, Faye Betts, and Janice Musik helped cook our hot dogs. John Mark Hays arrived early to set up tables. Numerous teens, tweens, and adults helped us hide thousands (yes, thousands!) of eggs. The 11th and 12th grade girls Huddle painted faces to make money for Make-A-Wish. This was such a nice addition to our day. We were entertained by NTO (Never Too Old), and we had beautiful weather.

Everyone working together made it run so smoothly. Thank you to everyone who played a part!
